If It Will Help Alberta The EDMONTON BULLETIN Is For It

WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1929

INVITING THE INEVITABLE

When a city council prepares to discuss the budget, and closed doors, it is to be assumed that the aldermen have some sufficient reason for not wanting the public to know what they are doing. If Edmonton aldermen come to bear that reputation it will then come in full. They are acting in a way to earn it.

TIME TO GET BUSY

Saturday evening's accident at the air port is nothing to establish Edmonton's position as a flying centre. A few mishaps of that kind will blacklist the city as a good place for airplanes to keep away from.

If Edmonton is to secure its share of advances from the development of air transportation in the west, the flying field
should be put in shape for safe landing, day or night. If that is to be done in time for use during the present summer, the conditioning of the field should be under way now.

WHY IS A PENITENTIARY?

When a government is in a jam, the taxpayers usually "get it in the neck." As is an outcome of the Jackson incident it is suggested that the Dominion Government may be called upon to build an institution to which the Jacksonites can be sent. A more judicious proposal could be made. If so, it would certainly be interesting to hear it.

Jackson is either a criminal or an irresponsible. The courts decided that he is a criminal. Ottawa admitted his criminality but commuted his sentence from capital punishment to life imprisonment. Then why doesn't Ottawa keep him in the institution it built? The only reason is that it is expensive to maintain a man for all time.
But that is the great paradox of freedom—freedom rarely costs men their freedom. Self-freedom, for instance, lets them misuse their freedom and hasten about using it.

The Land of the Free is in danger of becoming the Home of the Trifles.

THE FESTIVAL

With the second largest number of the events ever made at an event of the kind,
the twenty-second Alberta Festival, Festival in full swing in Edmonton. What is even better, more significant, and more promising, the entrants represent all parts of the province from Peace River to the far northern districts.

The great announcement is now in reality an "Alberta" festival. It is as assuredly provincial as it is permanent.
The time was when neither one nor the other was very certain. Congratulations are in order, especially to all those who do with the carrying on of the enterprise from year to year, to the public, and not least to those who twenty-two years ago
had the foresight and enterprise to plan and launch an annual fest of music in a sparsely settled province whose roots were engrossed in the task of pioneering a new country.

VARSITY.

The University of Alberta is of age.
The twenty-first convocation is being held today. That is a brief moment in the life of an institution that has been in the womb
of a land where the continent a university has made so much growth in so short a period. The staff during the first year comprised four members, and there were 45 students in attendance. The faculty now numbers more than 100, and more than and more than 1500 young men and women have been taking courses during the year that is closing.

This growth in numbers has not been achieved by lowering standards. Students do not flock to the Alberta university
because it is easier to get a degree here than elsewhere. On the contrary, the academic requirements have been kept at a high level, and Alberta's record in the professions rank well with those of other Canadian universities. Credit is due to all who have carried official responsibility for the direction of the institution, and particularly to Dr. T. H. Mac-Donald, its first president.

Credit is also due to the successive governments and legislatures, without whose sanction the investment in a pioneering and equipment could not have been made. It is equally due to the public who have devoted so large a measure of the provincial credit and provincial revenue to the up-building of the university on lines

which were undoubtedly ambitious.

The Banker

By EDGAR A. CAST

Time was the banker old and gray
Drove all the custom away.

When anybody asked a loan
His voice awoke an icy frost;

He'd say, "I'm a banker, not a thief,
And like a preacher he began

To tell the tale of man's sin.

He'd say, "I'm a banker, not a thief,
Loses his money and his friends."

Excuses were his stock in trade.

He knew why loans should not be made.

He just had to show his head
To prove that he was right.

And so the look which he could show

As he pronounced the final "no."

And so his sign, as he declined

To tell the tale of man's sin.

That though his gains did not increase

He lived a life of perfect peace.

Today the banker thinks it wise
That he is practical boy down.

And gone the crown which earned "beware!"

That though his gains did not increase

In glittering words now read "come in."

That though his gains did not increase

The banker's learning how to smile.

And what is more, I think he's learned

That dividends by loans are earned.

Afraid of Freedom

man's slavery, but to impose upon the obligations

LAST TRIBUTES
ARE TENDERED
HAROLD FOSTERFellow Masons Honor Edmonton Man at Impre-
sive Funerary Service

Edmonton United Church, conducted with friends of the deceased and the fruit of the church banked with floral tributes, last rites and tribute to Harold Fosters, head of the Masons, were held yesterday morning, when, as far as could be learned, no services were made Tuesday afternoon.

At 10 a. m. Colwood followed the license to the graveside where burial was made in the cemetery. Services were held at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. All the Masons who had been asked to speak were present.

Rev. C. H. Williams, of the church conducted the service, and paid tribute to Mr. Foster.

"Knowing Mr. Foster's own desire for a simple, quiet and dignified service as simple as possible, Mr. MacLennan said, "I carried the opportunity to speak as briefly as possible."

He was a wild life, an active and a kindly life. As a son, as a brother, as a friend, he was a good man, now deeply missed by his learning, his friends, his family, those in his business, his clubs and others, those in the Kuemper Club and others, those in the Masonic Lodge, and all those that you are here to bear witness to his life."

"His wild personality has gone on, but his memory remains, a guide to a greater life where the participants are greater."

He was a man in learning the lesson of love and now greatly heeded it.

While the church was filling with a strain of organ music, a solo of beautiful soft music was played on the organ by Tommie Mason, an old friend.

The congregation sang two hymns, "Jesus, I Love Thee" and "Jesus, I Love Thee." Mrs. Mac Vidor Canham, with the organ, and her mother, Mrs. Hobart Canham, and her son, Eddie, sang "Jesus, I Love Thee."

While the organ was passing the organ after the service, Mr. MacLennan said, "Goodbye, old timer."

Long Carter, 86, who had been the last Edmontonian to die in the last 10 years, was laid to rest in the cemetery. His last service was held in 1923, his funeral in 1924, and his last service in 1925.

Other pallbearers were Capt. W. R. West, Mrs. V. May Horner, Del Mould, John G. McLean, John G. McLean, Hobart Canham, all old friends of Mr. Foster.

Various organizations of which Mr. Foster was a member attended his funeral, including the Knights of Columbus of which the deceased was vice-president.

Mr. Foster is survived by his widow, Mrs. Fosters, and his son, John, 11, who was born in 1921, and his wife, and three sons, and two brothers, Capt. W. R. West, Mrs. V. May Horner, Del Mould, John G. McLean, John G. McLean, Hobart Canham, all old friends of Mr. Foster.

Various organizations of which Mr. Foster was a member attended his funeral, including the Knights of Columbus of which the deceased was vice-president.

An action to force him to withdraw from the Knights of Columbus in connection with the Settlement Corporation against Mrs. Fosters, widow of the deceased, was overruled in the Supreme Court Wednesday, when a decision was rendered in the case filed by the firm of Woods, Field, Clark and Fosters, which was given under an agreement signed on July 14, 1927, against a claim of $1,000,000 by the deceased.

Breaking his journey in Edmonton from a vacation in the United States in connection with the Canadian National Railway passenger service, A. L. Clark, managing director of the Canadian Pacific, was welcomed with headquarters in Vancouver spent Wednesday night in Edmonton, where he will remain until Saturday morning.

Mr. Clark, who is president of the Canadian Waterways and Power Co., and his wife, Mrs. Clark, and their two sons, John and George, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Canham.

On Power Question

Tuesday's Meeting Decides on More Conferences, But Apparently No Sale Will be Entertained—Aldermen Object to Criticism

Members of the power committee of the council met with J. Cunningham, city power and street railway superintendent, Tuesday, when it was decided to arrange an interview with Premier J. E. Brownlee with a view to seeking the co-operation of the provincial government in solving the city's power problem and mapping a power policy for Edmonton. Ald. Dr. F. A. Foster, who was elected chairman of the committee and instructed to arrange the interview.

The question of appointing a responsible engineer to make a study of the power system will also be taken up with the government.

The Edmonton Bulletin's Big Automobile Contest has just opened. First published list of enrolments is given on this page. If your name is not among them, send it in at once. There is no reason why you cannot win the $2,000 Sedan, the $1,495. Second Prize Automobile; the $885.00 Third Prize Auto; or the $805.00 Touring Car, or any of the other costly prizes.

300,000 EXTRA VOTES FOR EACH AND EVERY $15.00 SENT IN THIS WEEK

If you are planning to enter the Contest and compete for one of the big prizes, but are delaying it, some cause or other, we wish to call your attention to the Big Extra Vote offer, whereby 300,000 Extra Votes are given for each and every $15.00 worth of subscriptions turned in before midnight Saturday, May 18th. Competitors who make the most of the early days of the contest will receive more votes for their efforts than those who wait to enter later. It will take votes to win the prizes. A word to the wise is sufficient.

PLENTY OF ROOM FOR MORE ENTRANTS

On this page today the list of candidates who have turned in at least one subscription up to and including May 13 are entered in the Edmonton Bulletin's Big Automobile Contest, and the names are appearing for the first time. The votes represent the candidate's enrolment coupon only. If your name is not included in the list, send in your enrolment at once. It is not too late to enter the competition. The Contest is just starting and enrolments will be accepted up to the end of the Contest. It can be readily seen, however, that those who enter early and start right in, will have the best opportunity of winning.

There are only about 150 entrants in all, and this fact should impress you with the wonderful opportunity you have of being the winner of one of the automobiles or other prizes. Bear in mind, that the big half of the present entries will not be active candidates. Considering the value of the list of prizes given and the fact that there will be NO LOSERS under the liberal commission plan, we figured on fully three hundred or more candidates entering. Undoubtedly, a great many will enter the competition when the general public sees how few are taking advantage of the splendid opportunity offered to win prizes of real value absolutely free.

ENTER YOUR NAME NOW

and have the advantage over those who wait to come in later.

These standings represent the enrollment coupon only, of the candidates who had sent in at least one subscription prior to May 14th.

MacDougallites Finished at Head of League Standing and Take Handsome Trophy Put Up for Competition by A.B.C. Studios

LAST night saw the wind-up of the Edmonton Ladies' Basketball League, A. B. C. trophy series, when the Y. W. C. A. quintet took the Capital girls into camp by a score of 31-15. The play in the first three periods was very close with little to choose between the two teams, but in the last period the Capital girls cracked under a fusilage of shots by the Y. W. C. A. and allowed the latter team to pile up the score.

Shortly after the start of the game May Brown and Garry Burland put the Capitals in the lead by sinking a pair of free throws. However just before the period ended Babs Bowthorpe and Madeline Case came through with two nice field baskets to put the Y. W. C. A. in the lead 4-2 by the time the first period was over.

PLAY WAS CLOSE IN LAST FEW SECONDS.

For the first 15 minutes of the game the Capital girls had the upper hand.

The Capitals, Evelyn Case, A. L. Endicott, Babs Bowthorpe, Madeline Case, and Babs Burland, had the following scores:

Y. W. C. A. 31, Capitals 15.
